Introduction

We are excited to present a new year of distinguished difference. With every collection we continue to seek unique pieces and deliver a range which creates an atmosphere that can be sensed and connected with. You'll find a deliberate expression of exceptional matters, honest techniques and superior design in this year's selection, expanding our journey and launching into a layered and versatile range. Tribe Home's narrative is underpinned by Tina Richards' passionate covet to develop a myriad of motifs, unrestricted by any periphery.

2018/19 is an unrehearsed year, proving aesthetic cohesion between our supported regions around the world, aiding societies within Afghanistan, Bangladesh, India and Iran forging new relationships to inspire your design impulses.

With a design focused philosophy, we are committed to sourcing refined pieces which offer a platform to all artistic desires, forecasting the unconventional. We continue to honour skilled crafts with a social conscious. As vast believers of following your intuition and exploring your imagination instinctively, we hope this collection enthuses your creative vision.

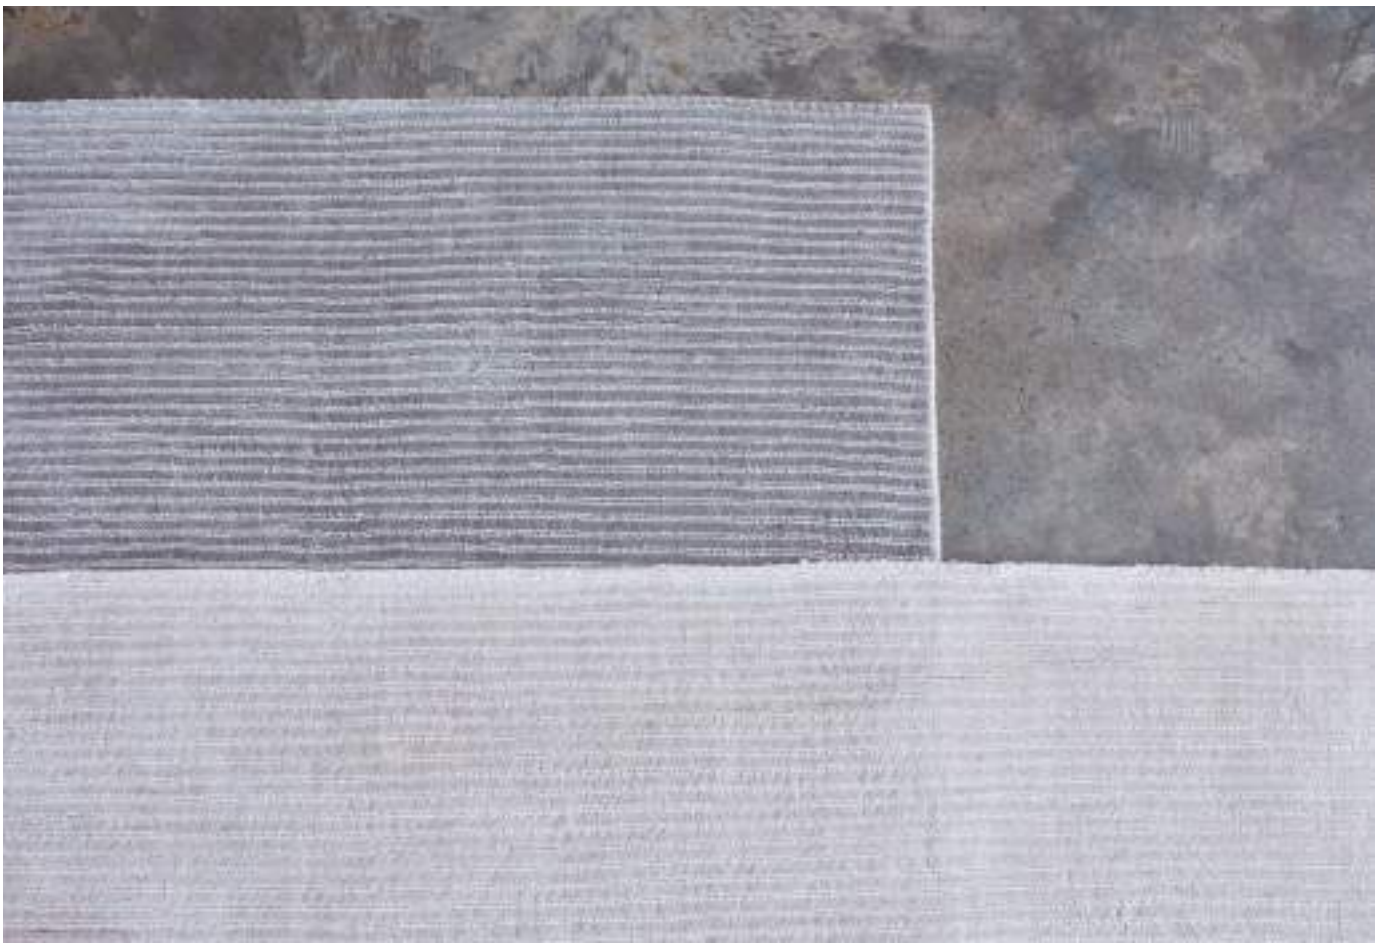
Forging Significance

Meaningful rugs with geometric verve are rarely innocent bystanders. These pieces lead your desires through high-low textured linear shadows offering a distinctly rich and sophisticated mood. The hand-loomed detailing's incorporated on our Belgium linen and silk rugs prove to be classical foundations of ageless contemporary designs functioning through the eras.

You'll perceive the silk and linen series confidently understated, encompassing superior character, worthy of importance and permanence. These pieces offer a compelling addition for your next interior.

The Outsiders
New Outdoor Creativity
gestalten
The Outsiders

Ethereal



The cohesive aesthetics of the Sotheby rug within this range is intrepidly palpable. Authentic in nature and undeniably appealing to touch, the Sotheby's hand-loomed tencel fibres are a derivative of bamboo pulp carefully refined to cylindrical yarns resembling a feel and look not unlike silk. It's polish and lustre presents a seemingly unparalleled perfection, elegant in quality.

Modern Art

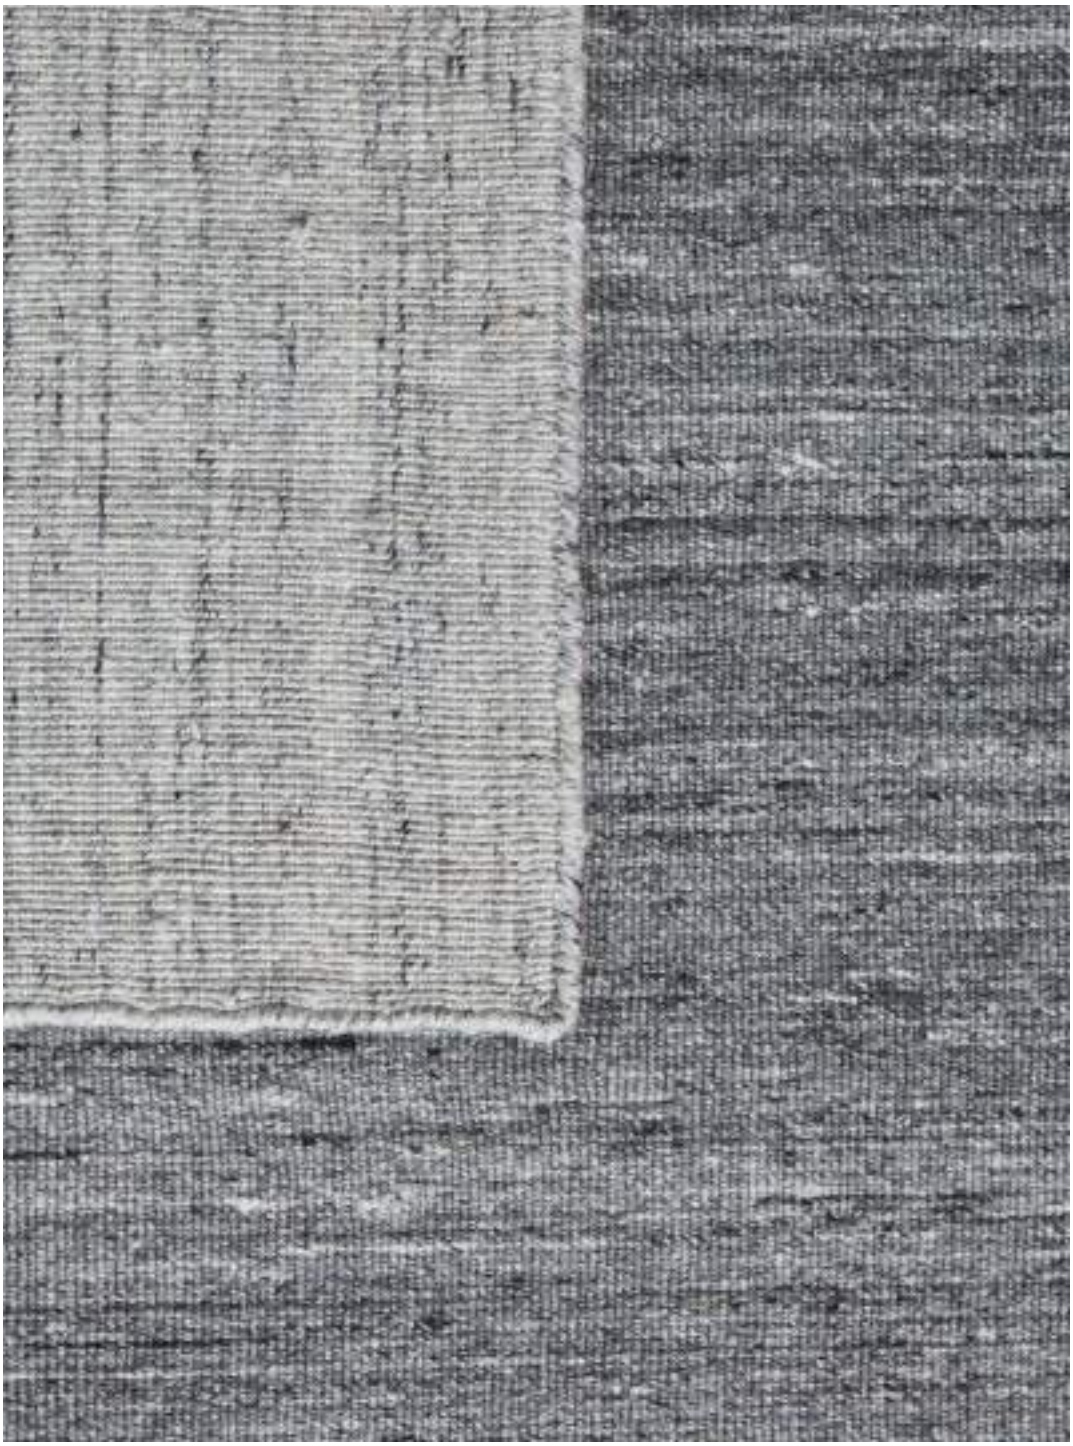
Sophisticated

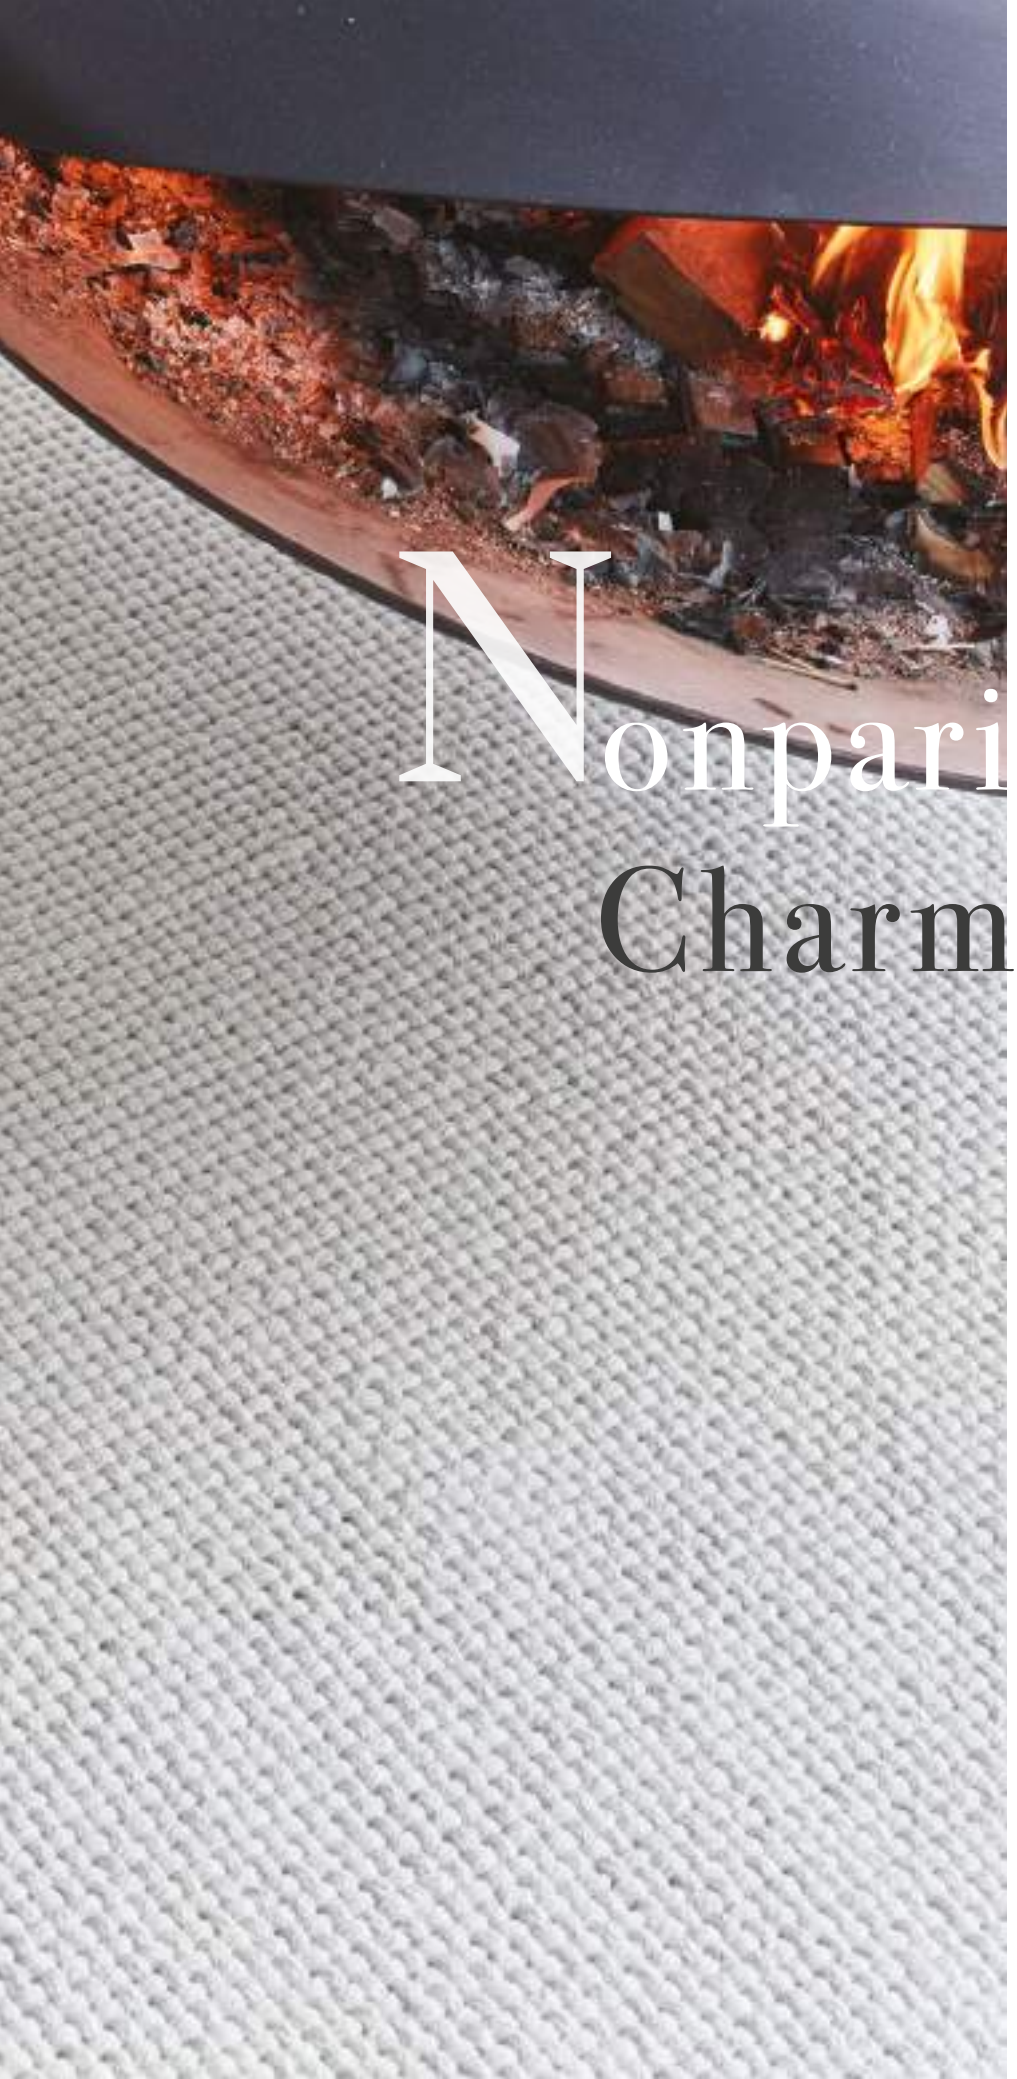
The Henry tells a masculine chronical of cultured patchwork designed to portray gallant notions of concrete and slate in a flat woven personal covering.

The charming Milano rug is made from hand-loomed sheared wool, presenting a high-low technique proving suave warmth. This purposeful warming cinder toned rug is strong and plush in presence making it respectfully long wearing.

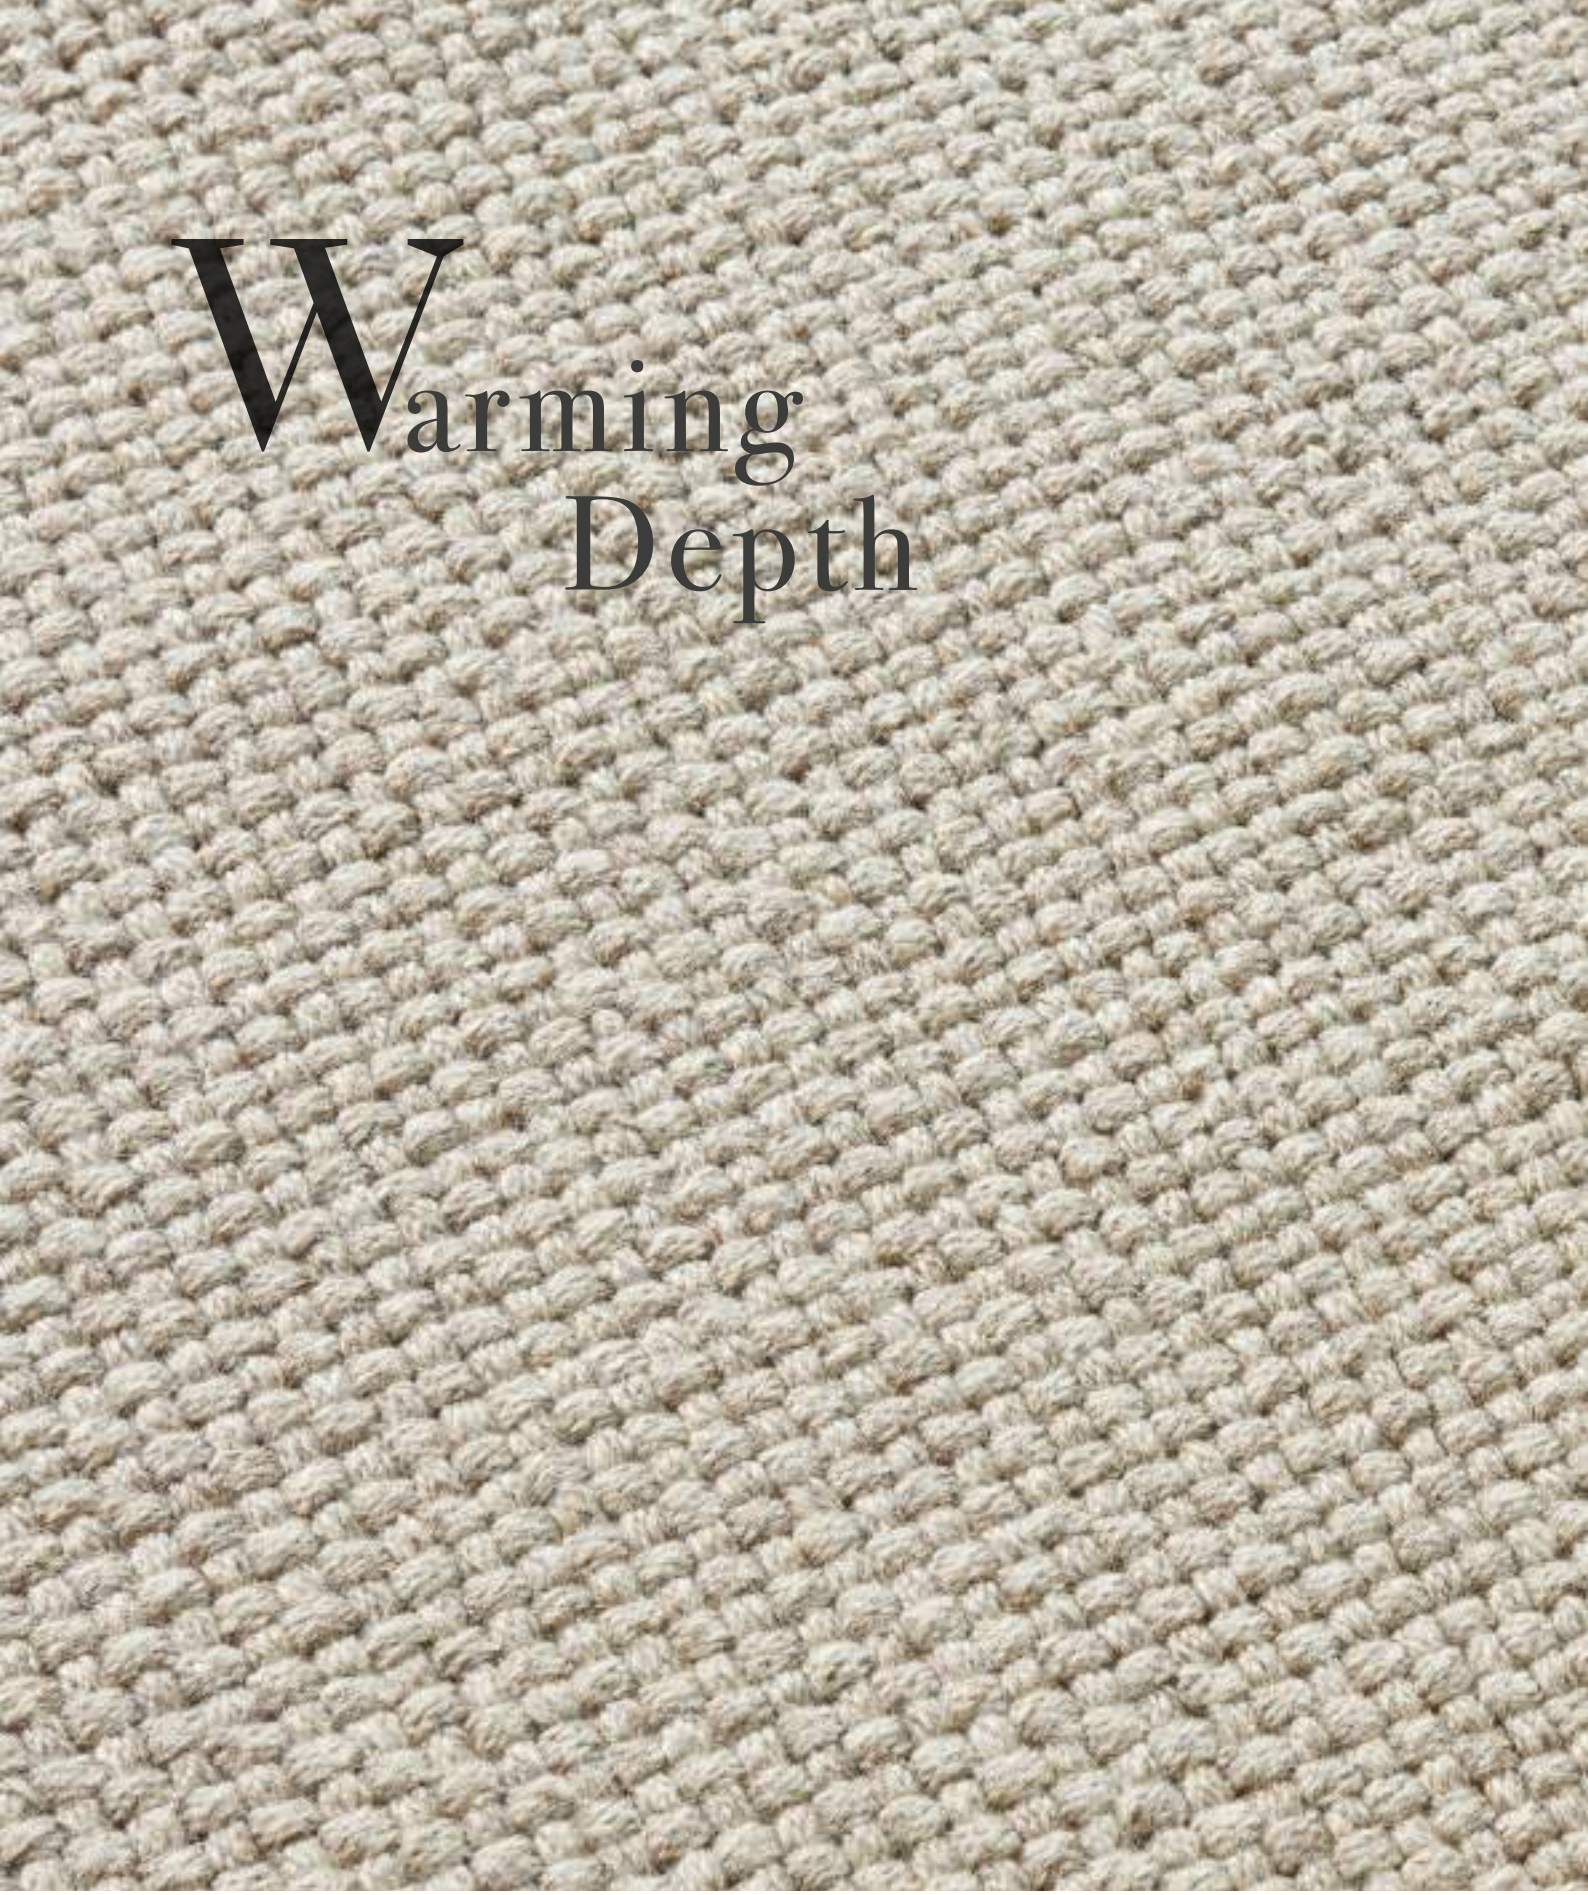
Regal Texture

The element of texture provides depth and gravity to a flat surface. Continuing a successful era of neutral textured features for Tribe Home, this season enters into methodical dimensions mastered by hand-weaving consistencies. Texture adorns and encourages warmth in a home environment, crafting sincere impressions of ambient cosiness.





Nonpariel Charm



Warming
Depth

Dappled Pattern

The Mezzanine rug attracts an eye with great attention to detail, creating a subtly glamorous canvas. This design is a luxurious herringbone viscose pile, adorning shiny saturations which offer similar expressions to silk.

Polished

A refined rug hand-loomed from Belgium linen in three tones connecting you with Positano. It's minimalistic presence paves the way for any decorating perspective.

Baskets & Metal

Tribe Home's basket and metal-ware collection was born from an appreciation for functional, creative and most importantly sustainable storage-ware. We've aimed to curate a range of design staples made from raw materials such as recycled paper, seagrass, jute, recycled plastic and aluminium.

This season we've celebrated the indoor plant phenomenon and the maximalist design add-ons, with pieces cloaked in rustic patina finesse.

A Victoriana inspired line, the Harper and Asher rugs are unusually superior. With medieval artistic accents, these rugs personify quality using a Persian knotted technique, encompassing 85 knots per square inch, an elegant portrayal of delicate pattern. Symphonising poetry, movement and rareness each rug takes 120 days to create. Stocked in 250x300cm, or made to order, these incredible pieces are worth the wait.

Introduction

This season is full of spontaneity, travelling to Germany in January has revealed the musings of various special finds. Engaging with several nations during our journey, discovering the utmost traditions which have formed rug traditions over centuries, passed down by ancestors fondly remembered. Immersing ourselves in one particular age-old community, the Iranian's civilization has shaped the hand-formed rug industry to date, renowned for the best weavers in the world. The realm and rich history of Persian carpets can be traced back to individual villages in the 19th century. Precise tribes guided unique motifs, patterns, saturations and particular weaves which distinguish their origins.

A country dawned by desert, rugs were always the centre-piece to many households, emphasising grand pieces. With a considerable carpet culture, Iran's production framed their society, wealth deciding the size of a household's loom and the quality of yarns.

Advancing to the 21st century, where we value sustainable living, Tribe Home presents a series of antique Persian Kirman rugs, repaired and refurbished ready for a new beginning. Kirman pieces are amongst the greatest in Iran, known for their high density and quality woollen yarns with an ability to withstand vigorous restoring treatments including salt washing and overdying, making them exclusively difficult to source in the rug market.

These Kirman antiques have been collected and recycled on a specified design scale. The traditional patterned maps of these carpets define a truly masterful piece, making each Kirman precisely individual and highly worthy.

Our Taimany carpets give vital strength and creativity to Afghani women. Within the Heret region of West Afghanistan you'll find micro-laboratories where a strong tradition of weaving transpires by the Beluch and Tajik housewives. Special weaving professions like these offer a small income, not controlled by men, therefore usable for the women's children, household and themselves. Each piece is not alike, handwoven intrinsically and individually forming each expressively unique rug.

Revived Vintage

Continuing with a series of carpets which hold pasts of great accomplishment, these Turkish and Pakistani sourced vintage rugs are honest in their expression. Characterised by their reinvented overdyed and embroidered saturations. Our revived rugs were once traditional pieces 30-40 years ago, before undertaking long-established techniques including overdying, salt washing, bleaching and embroidering.

One of a Kind

Upon close inspection, each pile has been selectively shorn down, exposing a distressed and textured persona. We enjoy sourcing worldly and neutrally muted colours, to combine a spectrum of revitalised vintage rugs, reminiscent of art pieces. An elegant echo of its vintage form.

Information

It's no secret our passion at Tribe Home is to travel through former walks of life to scout for antique one-of-a-kind rugs. There's something truly special about owning a unique piece with such essence as a one-off.
Similar with your tailored design jobs, our customized vintage program permits you to provide a wish list of prerequisites which will allow us to curate a selection of exclusive carpets for your design board.

Iranian Antique & Turkish Revive Rugs
Installing an Iranian Kirman antique or a Turkish Revive rug contributes spirit to the surrounding space your scheming. If you would like to specify a distinct collector's item, we ask you provide us with the approximate hues, saturations, sizing, and overall desired feel, for us to find the most compatible piece.

Harper & Asher Rugs
These hand-knotted units are exclusively stocked by Tribe Home in a limited 250x300cm run. Alternatively, either design can be specifically made to order in a custom size. Please consider each rug takes approximately four months for one person to craft, labelling them a true artistic composition.

Taimany Rugs
We will continue to hold diverse stock of these extraordinary Taimany rugs, offering a limited catalogue of the one-offs for you to specify from.

Please allow enough artistic time to find the perfect match for you.
